

Jacklyn Collier

Emerging from the storied coal heartlands of Central Pennsylvania, Jacklyn intertwines deep-rooted storytelling traditions with avant-garde creativity. With an MFA in Acting, she's carved a niche across different media including podcasts, theatre, film, and, most prominently, in the realm of immersive theatre. Her synergy with co-strategist Michael Milton, formed during their time performing together in New York, solidified their shared ethos: transforming everyday moments into unparalleled experiences. Beyond the stage, Jacklyn's entrepreneurial acumen shines as the co-founder of Bundle, a bespoke board game enterprise. This fusion of artistry and enterprise uniquely positions her to chart new horizons in experiential arts and business.